

12/5/18

Ethan,

Hope this letter finds you ok, we sure do miss you!

ITS going to get cold here tonight, mid 30's. ITS funny on the weather Report on TV at night they say its getting colder tomorrow its going to be in the 50's. AT home they would say its warming up not getting colder. AT least it finally got raining.

The lady that is helping get your money back that works with the Army said you are definitely getting 2 weeks off for Christmas no matter what the SARGENTS say. we can't wait!

The owner here that has a daughter in AIT had the same feet problem in Basic as you did. Her feet would bleed thru her boots. I can't believe the Army can't get the right size boots for everyone.

What have you been learning new lately?

Well hang in there, you have 2 weeks left before your break.

Take care, we love you very much!
